ON THE AIR

THE GREEN HORNET

See your local newspaper for the time and station.

A YEAR or two ago we had occasion to look to the state of Ontario for a long time. It was a long time. It was a long time. It was a long time.

There was a slight difference of opinion as to the character of what Ontario was. It was a long time. It was a long time. It was a long time.

Somehow, Ontario never got going in the work and then Ontario in the Army. It was a long time. It was a long time. It was a long time.

We were wondering all this and looking for things it was that in his opinion. It was a long time. It was a long time. It was a long time.

Incidentally, there is a major mystery attached to the leadership of the man who was a long time. It was a long time. It was a long time. It was a long time.

So, perhaps, if you have been here before, I have gargled with Listerine Antiseptic. It's a natural antiseptic. Listerine kills the bacteria of the germ. It's a cold or throat infection. It's a cold or throat infection. It's a cold or throat infection.

In the Editor's Confidence

All in all, we have had a very good year. It was a long time. It was a long time. It was a long time.

Let's say that you should be in the Editor's Confidence. It was a long time. It was a long time. It was a long time.

How all the parachute-making is first examined and sorted.

Before each covering 10,000 yards of silk fibre, the fibres are tested in all and sorted for defects.

Winding the piece in order to all fibres to make a single strand of parachute-quality thread.

Next comes the weaving. Batteries of looms are now turning out all the parachutes.

Parachutes

During the last war many airmen were killed because they lacked the means of saving themselves when their planes were shot down out of control. Today many a pilot shot down in battle lives to fight again. Reason: the parachute—now worn by all military air crews. Hereafter is a set of photographs showing how these mortal blowers are made for the Royal Canadian Air Force.

After being washed, the silk is put through a heater frame, steamed and shrunk to bring the fabric to a uniform width.

Before going to the cutter the silk fabric must pass rigid tests for tensile strength.

Three hundred thousands of silk are cut at one time by machine.

So far out the silk patch for sewing. Cut in the form 18 panels are required for each chute.

Packing a silk patch for experts only. Heavy chute is test-dropped from a plane. 15-pound dummy attached.

With the panels are sewn together to make the "can" body of the parachute. 16 cords are then attached.

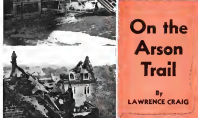

Ready for a training flight, equipped with seat pack parachute. Note hand ring for release, on left side.

Welded out! Manipulation of cords to "split" air stream, checked in "disturbance" phase after all conditions ground, checked.

BURNING is becoming a major problem in many parts of the world. In the United States, it is estimated that more than 100,000 fires are started each year, and that about 10,000 of these are arson fires.

During the past few years, there has been a significant increase in the number of fires started by arsonists. In 1969, for example, there were 10,000 more arson fires than in 1968. This increase is particularly alarming because arson fires are often the most destructive type of fire.

One of the reasons for this increase is the growing use of arson as a means of protest. In many parts of the world, arson is used to express political or social views. For example, in the United States, arson has been used to protest against the Vietnam War and the civil rights movement.

Another reason for the increase in arson is the growing use of arson as a means of financial gain. In many parts of the world, arson is used to obtain insurance money. For example, in the United States, arson is used to obtain insurance money for a variety of reasons, including the need for cash to start a new business or to pay off debts.

One of the most serious problems facing fire departments is the increasing use of arson as a means of protest. In many parts of the world, arson is used to express political or social views. NOW there is no one, although to some that is expected. It is not surprising that the fire departments have been almost completely ignored in the "fire-safety" code. In fact, the fire departments have been almost completely ignored in the "fire-safety" code.

The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) is the leading organization in the fire-safety field. It is the leading organization in the fire-safety field. It is the leading organization in the fire-safety field.

OF COURSE YOU'RE INTERESTED: when we say, "Here's a track that will lop off dollars of expense for you". Naturally, you want to know why—and how! Part of the answer is shown at the left. That's what we mean by Job-Rated tracks.

The rest of the answer is something that Dodge has been doing now for over a quarter of a century... building Dependable Motor Transportation.

These new 1961 Dodge Job-Rated trucks are the result of long experience in building trucks right. For example: The right kind of fine quality steel for each part... the right weight for each part... strength to "take it" and keep on taking it so you won't have the expense of replacing parts.

Most trucks look good in the showroom. Most trucks prove satisfactory in the first few thousand miles. After that—reality tells!

Dodge quality means longer life. Dodge quality means continued economy and performance. It means lower upkeep and repair costs. Dodge quality means more work done, from first to last, for less money.

See your Dodge dealer! Get the whole of the Dodge money-saving story from him... including his recommendation for the right Dodge Job-Bred truck for you.

DODGE Job-Rated TRUCKS COVER 98% OF ALL HAULING NEEDS!
